The hearing examiner has issued his decision, and has no power to amend it. However, the parties (and the Commission, should the decision be appealed) should be aware that a clerical error (a typo) appears on page 1 of the decision, in the second full paragraph, in the list of exhibits. The typo appears in the sentence that reads, "The hearing examiner admitted Exhibits 1, 3, 14 (with page 1 redacted and page 2 provisionally sealed pursuant to the protective order), 15 through 18, 102, 105 through 107 and 109 through 111" (emphasis added). The sentence should properly read, "The hearing examiner admitted Exhibits 1, 3, 13 (with page 1 redacted and page 2 provisionally sealed pursuant to the protective order), 15 through 18, 102, 105 through 107 and 109 through 111" (emphasis added). The exhibits are correctly identified in the final sealing order. A copy of Exhibit 14, which was not admitted, has been kept with the admitted exhibits because a portion of that exhibit was read into the record over the objection of respondent's counsel. The hearing examiner apologizes for this error.
